Présentation

The Master Economics of Globalisation and European Integration (EGEI) is a two-year (120 ECTS) program fully taught in English and in a truly global learning environment.

A global career in economics and business.

The Master EGEI programme meets an increasing demand for graduates who have the skills to competently analyse issues of globalisation and economic integration, and make relevant policy or strategic recommendations in the public and private sectors.

Excellence in training and education.

An innovative approach which brings together advanced academic competences with more practical knowledge and skills. Lectures and seminars with EU officials, visits to EU institutions and other Brussels-based bodies. Interactive modes of instruction : Oxford-style debates, simulations, role playing games, discussion groups and "pitch" presentations.

An Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree.

Students must spend at least two terms in two EU countries different from their country of residence.

Upon successful completion of the programme, students earn the Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in Economics of Globalisation and European Integration.

The diplomas are awarded jointly by a consortium of seven universities and a leading global think tank. Associate partners from academia, international organisations and private sector contribute to the programme with specific skills and highly valuable opportunities for internships.

Savoir-faire et compétences

The programme equips the students with a solid background in economics of integration and international economics, as well as with strong quantitative skills.

Les + de la formation

The master's programme has a workload of 120 ECTS credits, with a taught part consisting of 90 credits, an internship of 10 credits and a dissertation of 20 credits.

The study programme is full-time and runs over 24 months. It is taught by staff of the eight partner institutions and by highprofile visiting scholars. During the 2-years students move to at least three different universities in three different countries.

MASTER 2 (applying for entry to the 2nd year only)

The key strengths of the EGEI programme include the international nature of the programme and the strong social cohesion among the students. This can only be achieved by participating fully in the entire program. Therefore, admissions directly to the 2nd year are not considered. Students with particularly compelling reasons to seek an exception to this rule can contact the EGEI joint board of studies to discuss their case.

International organisations, European institutions, think-tanks, consultancy, public policy-making bodies and institutions.
